Tapayan are large wide-mouthed earthenware or stoneware jars found in various locations around Southeast Asia including Brunei, Malaysia and Indonesia. Their various functions include fermenting rice, fermenting vinegar or alcoholic beverages, storing food and water, and cooking.

Tapayan were used primarily as storage jars for foodstuffs and valuable trade goods during ship voyages, but were highly valued as trade goods themselves. They became heirlooms and symbols of wealth and status among various indigenous cultures in the islands of Southeast Asia. Nowadays they are as a key pieces in interior design

BOHEMIAN LIVING

BOHEMIANS DO NOT FOLLOW TRENDS OR PATTERNS. THEY HAVE SHADES OF BRIGHT MAGNIFICENCE AND SHABBY ECLECTICISM IN AN ARTISTIC COMBINATION. RATHER, BOHEMIAN IS ALL ABOUT A HEART WHICH LOVES COLORS, CREATIVITY, ADVENTURE AND ABOVE ALL FREEDOM FROM RULES AND CONVENTIONS.

SINCE OUR BEDROOM IS THE MOST PRIVATE SPACE WHERE WE CAN BE OURSELVES AND LET OUR IMAGINATIONS LOOSE, THE DECOR SHOULD BE EFFECTIVELY IMPLEMENTED AND CHANNELIZED IN OUR BEDROOMS.
